Attleboro Trade High School

1969

Attleboro, Mass.

Dedication

We, the class of 1969, take great pride in dedicating our yearbook to a talented compassionate member of our faculty, Mrs. Edith Turner.

She likes people and people like her because she has so many attractive qualities: a zest for life that is contagious, a quick wit with a permanent, ready smile complemented with a keen sense of responsibility.

An enthusiastic and skillful teacher, Mrs. Turner has brought these same qualities into her dedicated work on the Tattletale. She has given her spirited support to all aspects of school life, especially to the Attleboro High School basketball team.

In sincere appreciation of her energy and devotion, we dedicate our yearbook to a most deserving person . . . Mrs. Edith Turner.

Foreword

History is the recording of past events and the events herein recorded represent the history of the class of '69. When we leaf through this volume as the years pass by—a picture, a word, a smile, will immediately bring back into focus the events so clear to us now.

As we think of our class of '69, thoughts of everlasting friendships made through learning, activities, sports, music and by sharing good times together, play a vital role in the total picture. To best symbolize this relationship, we, the co-editors of the 1969 Tattletale, have chosen the circle as our theme. As we graduate from A.H.S., we realize that only a portion of our circle has been completed; for all the experiences of our adult life are represented by the remainder of the circle, our youth being only a part of the total life span.

And now, let us examine a few sectors of this circle so that we might recapture the unforgettable days we shared at A.H.S.

In Memoriam

The faculty and students of Attleboro High School were deeply saddened by the death in July of their friend and colleague, Mrs. Mary B. Dean.

Mrs. Dean, a gifted and respected teacher, served for many years as a member of the Social Studies Department and in recent years as department head. Her loss is deeply mourned by all.

Service is the aim of the National Honor Society. These thirty members have sponsored the Variety Show, Occupation Night, a tutorial service, and the book store. By constitution, members are supposed to have demonstrated high degrees of scholarship (87 average for juniors and 85 for seniors), leadership, character, and service. Induction takes place in early spring, allowing enough time for seniors to make a meaningful contribution to the school as AHS members.

SOCIAL CLUBS

Lollipops and Roses

"The Monkeys"

"This isn't the Ladies' Room?"

"Hardt and Soul"

"Honest! Here's my I.D.!"

"Sock it to 'em, Jo!"

"Everybody loves somebody sometime"

Where have all the young men gone?

Bucking up for the next dance?

Purple Haze

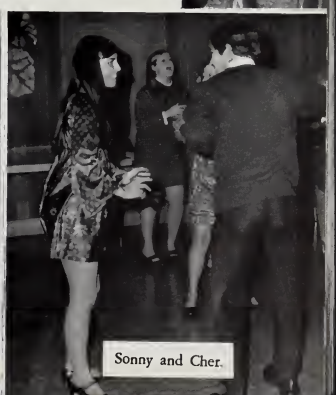
You old fox.

Snerbes and the group.

"And then I sez to him, I sez . . ."

I heard it through the grape vine.

The Blooming Wallflowers.



Sonny and Cher.

Victory Dance

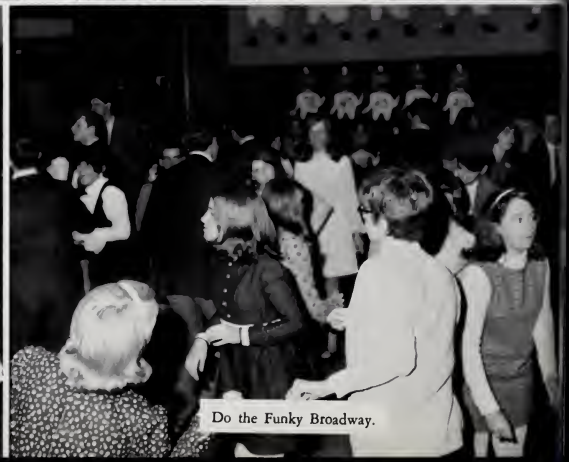
It was a halo a second ago!

Requiescat in pace.

Happy days are here again.

Happiness is . . .

Let's see . . . right foot down, left kick.



Do the Funky Broadway.

The Experience

Carin' for Karen

Dance now, sweet talk her later.

They really fell for each other.

Lady Clairol.

Two on one.

Can someone help me? I'm colorblind.

The Blahs!

Just de-Vine.

Parlez-vous italiano?

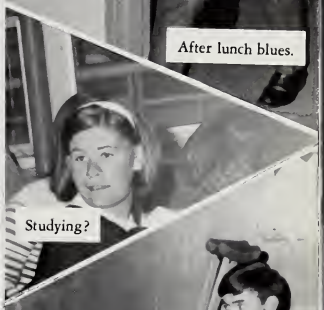
Blow me a kiss!

Not on the field, Don. It's too Gross.

Fat Harold, Let it all hang out.

Joanne:
Bunny of the month.

After lunch blues.



Studying?

Can we have your autograph?

Tout fini!

Two heads are better than one.

Their talent was finally discovered.

Wassa matter, Donna?

Tele-In

"Second Hand Rose"

How sweet it is!

Trio treat!

Oh, sweet blindness!

"Mom" and the boys.

Everyone digs Doug!

"If it doesn't rain after this, forget it!

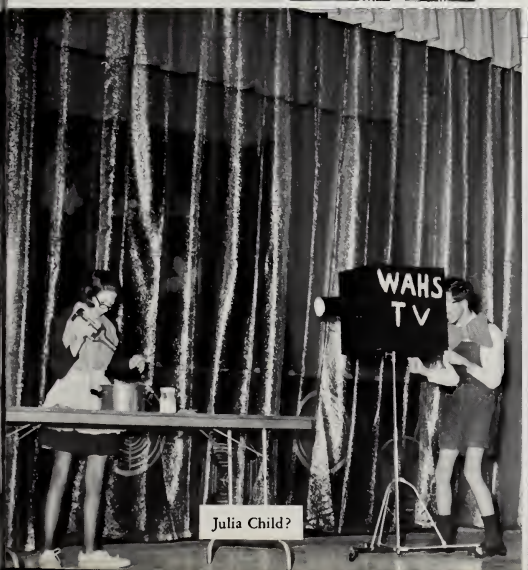
A poem by Twitty.

The Doublemint Duo.

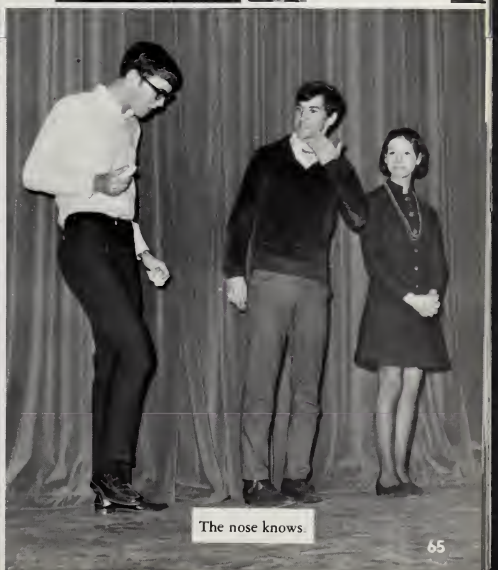
The beginning of the end.

Concentrate.

Beautiful music by a beautiful girl.



Julia Child?



The nose knows.

Class History

SOPHOMORE YEAR

In September, 1966, our class embarked on the last leg of the long road to educational fulfillment by entering Attleboro High School. We had had nine years of education and now had "only" three more to look forward to! When we finally became accustomed to the confusion around us, we settled down to elect our representatives to the student council. They were: Russell Deavellar, Lee Dubuc, Ronald Blais, Donald Gross, Brian Mulligan, and Gilbert Costa. Then our class again held an election and we chose for class officers: Kenneth Breese, President; Joanne Ruggio, Vice-President; Donna Mayer, Secretary; Derith Young, Treasurer.

The most memorable moment up to this point in our class history is the first rally we attended in our Sophomore year. We hung our heads in shame for a month afterward because of our lack of participation in the cheering competition. It is sad to relate that our class put on a repeat of our sporadic school spirit during every rally of that year!

Our football team made a valiant effort and ended the season with a 3-5-1 record. Even though A.H.S. lost the Turkey Game, we had a successful Victory Dance with Donna Mayer as our sophomore queen.

The basketball season was full of high hopes, but unfortunately, these hopes were not fulfilled.

Our class joined in the extracurricular activities such as the Variety Show, "Colors of Love," directed by Mr. Theodore Thibodeau and sponsored by the National Honor Society. Our own Elaine Gauvin, singer, composer, and guitarist, added to its success. "Twelve Angry Jurors," the senior play, was directed by the renowned Mr. Paul Kelly who was aided by the superb performance of Gail Robertson as the tenth juror.

Cheering tryouts were held and from the many eager girls who sought the enviable positions, the following were chosen: JoAnn Demarais and Joanne Ruggio as regulars, and Jill Downing and Nancy Rotenberg as substitutes.

As our sophomore year drew to a close, we held our heads a little higher as we stampeded into Cafeteria "A" to order our class rings. Our "baby" year had finally ended, but its events will always linger in our minds.

JUNIOR YEAR

In September, 1967, our class merged after a sun-filled summer. We were now upperclassmen and were determined to live up to the name. We settled down to business and elected our representatives to the Student Council. They were Linda Masse, Lee Dubuc, Russell Deavellar, Ronald Blais, Donald Gross and Mark Rovzar. For our class officers we elected: Alden Swanson, President; Marc Forbes, Vice-President; Donna Mayer, Secretary; Karen Tatarian, Treasurer.

During the first rally our class seemed entirely different from what we had displayed in our sophomore year. The whole auditorium vibrated from our enthusiasm in the cheering competition. Throughout the year we kept up our spirited performances during continued cheering competition.

We had an unbelievable football season and defeated our inter-city rival Feehan and then topped off the season by defeating our arch-rival North Attleboro in the "mud" bowl.

The victory dance was held before the Turkey Game and our Junior Queen was Cindi Skinner. School spirit was at a high peak at this time because "Queen Hilda" came home and was escorted by North Attleboro's two crestfallen co-captains.

We had a successful basketball season defeating, among others, Feehan and Durfee, to end the season on a happy note.

Our Junior dance was a success with the Peanuts characters as our theme.

The National Honor Society inducted many members from our Junior Class in May. They were as follows: Nancy Anderson, Claudia Ashworth, David Bell, Margaret Carnes, Leslie Cassidy, Jean Cloutier, Richard Coddaire, Susan Colman, Jill Downing, Jo-Ann Evans, Dean Farley, William Fischer, Jane Fyfe, Donald Gross, Robert Haynes, William LaCivita, Jeannette Lefebvre, JoAnn Nabach, Carole Nicholson, Albert Normandin, Christine Parker, Mark Rovzar, JoAnne Ruggio, Robert Sanford, Donese Shamey, Margery Sillman, Dianne Sollecito, Virginia Viveiros, and Stephen Walsh. The officers were elected: Dean Farley, President; Jill Downing, Vice-President; Jean Cloutier, Recording Secretary; Susan Colman, Corresponding Secretary; Nancy Anderson, Treasurer.

Other activities included the Variety Show, "Now" directed by Mr. Victor Genest and Mrs. Patricia Price.

This year a new facet of dramatics was added to our activities. Mr. Paul Kelly directed a drama festival which included three one-act plays. Each class sponsored one of them. Our play won the dramatic award and added important points to our tally for the Freeman Hall Trophy.

The play was well acted by: Nancy Anderson, Dean Farley, Gail Robertson, Theodore Rodgers, and Carol Handelman. Special awards were presented to Stanley Rocha, as "Best Supporting Actor" and Dennis Landry, as "Best Actor of the Junior Play."

In June, Mr. Joyce informed the entire student body that our class had won the Freeman Hall Trophy for that year. Of course, we had never had any doubts that we would win.

In May, cheering tryouts were held and from the many girls who participated, these Juniors were chosen: Cindi Skinner and Derry Young. Joanne Ruggio was elected head cheerleader by the cheering squad.

As our Junior year drew to a close, we all looked forward to our last year as Seniors when we would reign over A. H. S.

SENIOR YEAR

It was a very good year . . .

In September, 1968, our class met after a summer crammed with fun and frolic before we had to return to A.H.S. for our final year. We began our senior year under a new administration headed by Mr. Robert Bray as Principal and Mr. Ronald Struminski as Vice-Principal. Since we were to be the one hundredth class to graduate from A. H. S., we were positive we would be the best class ever.

We held elections for student council choosing the following: Ronny Blais, Russ Deavellar, Jean Cloutier, Donna King, Ted Rodgers, Mark Rovzar, Kenny Breese, Sue Colman, Gayle Hughes, and Tom Johnston. At a second important election, our class chose the officers who would be the leaders to guide us through our difficult senior year. They were: Alden Swanson, President; Dennis Keough, Vice-President; Donna Mayer, Secretary; and Karen Tatarian, Treasurer.

As football season began, we were fortunate to have as our co-captains Kenny Furtado and Rich Morin. The two heart-breaking losses which we'll all remember were to Durfee, 2-0, and to our arch-rival Feehan. The season ended with our team victorious over North Attleboro on Thanksgiving Day and Kenny Furtado being named Most Valuable Player for the year. Cindi Skinner was again chosen as Queen of the Victory Dance.

This year a new idea was instituted to engender school spirit. This was the painting of colorful and decorative designs in the glass corridors. Miss Perlman must be thanked for aiding us with this project.

The Variety Show was, as always, a huge success. "Tele-In" was a delightfully humorous and satirical lampoon of television programs and commercials. Stan Rocha and Dennis Landry were witty and clever as they took turns at being master of ceremonies. Mr. Victor Genest and Miss Andrea Kelsch directed the show.

Our senior dance, "Lollypops and Roses," was overflowing with artistic decorations and good music.

This year for the first time, the Trade High School sponsored their own dance and also held an open house during which students of the academic high school were taken on a tour of the trade high school facilities. These two activities did a great deal toward promoting a closer union between the two student bodies.

Dean Farley, a member of our class, was honored by receiving the Bausch and Lomb award in science. Jill Downing was selected as our D.A.R. Good Citizen.

A new organization was formed this year which aided immensely in unifying our class and promoting school spirit. With Denny Keough as king, "Grapes, Incorporated," became the number one club in the school.

Basketball season roared off to an impressive start by our defeating North Attleboro. Every game was a "cardiac" event, particularly the loss to Feehan in (after) the last fraction of a second. The season ended with a 12-4 record and our onward march to Tech. The "Grapes" put on a rally which showed the evidence of much hard work in its preparation and it was judged a unanimous success.

Because of our publishing deadline, we are unable to record many more events which are yet to come. We still have the Senior Prom, the Reception, Class Day, and the wildest Senior Picnic ever to look forward to.

The members of every high school class are fond of reminiscing about their undergraduate days. We, the class of 1969, will always look back on our three years at AHS with nostalgia, regret, amusement, and affection. We also know that as we leave, the administration will be forced to admit that we were the best class ever to graduate from AHS and that it may well be an additional one hundred years before another class as memorable as ours comes along.

Stan Rocha	Jr. Dance, Feb. 2, 1968.	A 2-pupil class to anyone who can stand Latin. I leave Ricki to suffer thru another year. I leave an electric razor to Mr. McConeghy. I leave my physics book to the next person who wants it. My extra credits to Pat Brennan. I leave a moldy towel to whom it may concern. One slightly dented VW. I leave after 3 great years. Any senior who likes English—I leave Miss Kelsch. I leave my gym suit to anyone who wants it. My parking place to Steve Dorrance.	A sunshine cookie girl. The future Mrs. Davignon. Colorado Ski Instructor. A mathematics professor. A female Liberace. A silver miner. Olympic V.W. driver. Present day Florence Nightingale. A Rainbow maker. A lady plumber. BVD Salesman.
Ralph Richard	Lighting of a firecracker in shop.	I leave one reserved Friday nite to John.	A little Saint.
Ted Rodgers	Meeting Senator Brooke.	A Cheerleading skirt to whoever can find it.	A "grape" Cheerleader.
Glenna Rothwell	Junior Picnic.	One extra large jar of peanut butter to Pat O'B., Steve S., Mark R., Marc F., and Denny. I leave a bag of candy in room 201 to anyone who gets stuck with 3rd lunch. I leave Mr. Corkum all the Bookkeeping Journals I have done—none. All the broken machines to fix in the shop. My brother to all the teachers. To Mrs. McKenna, one bag full of broken shinguards. I leave a new waterproof pocketbook to Mrs. Toscano. My seat in shorthand — — — empty.	The epitome of sartorial elegance. A Forest Ranger. A "Flub"-a-dub. A machinist. A Spanish teacher. First woman astronaut. A caddy for Bruce. A floor walker. A missionary.
Joanne Ruggio	June 5, 1968—the day I made head cheerleader.	I leave everything I learned at the Trade School. I leave the Mental Midget and Fat Jack for anyone who wants a big laugh. My sympathy to future students. My smelly basketball locker to whoever can stand it. I leave Jini and Pat. Mr. Clark's Overhead projector to the Juniors. 10 crates of Beechnut Peppermint Gum to Mrs. O'Reilly.	A Wayward boy. An artist in P-town. Professional Basketball Player. International gurgling champ. A mouse trap. Happy Homemaker.
Mark Rovzar	Everytime we won or lost to Feehan.
Ronald Roy	1968 Shop X-Mas party.
Nancy Rotenberg	See I.C.; the grape weekend; seeing the Young Rascals.
Mary Sanford	March 6, 1968.
Robert Sanford	My first period with Miss Kelsch.
Eugene Sasnett	Graduation.
Joseph Scott	The day I cut a kid's finger with a broom and he had to get 4 stitches.
Donese Shamey	January 16, 1969.
Debbie Shaw	October 11, 1966, at 9:30.
Judy Shepardson	June 21, 1968.
John Shirinian	The Turkey Day Game 1968.
Midge Sillman	Grape weekend.
Mark Silva	Electrocuting the attendance girl in Physics.
Janet Simonsen	4th floor at Sturdy.
Susan Soares	My acceptance into Nursing.
Jacquelyn Spriggs	When I spilled acid all over myself in Chem Lab.
Karen Stanhope	The day the hot water faucet got stuck.
Steven Staples	When I was kicked out of the auditorium for sneezing.
Louise St. George	My guided tour thru the cow pasture.
Herman Surprenant	"Grape Rally."
Alden Swanson	The night of the peanut butter.
Denise Tetreault	Sharing lockers with a special guy in my jr. yr.
Pete Therrien
Carl Thomas	Trade School Christmas Party.
Gayle Thornhill	The junior picnic.
Carolyn Vieira	How can I pick just one?
Ginnie Viveiros	June 26, 1966 and entering AHS.
Maureen Walker	My first day at AHS (Jan. 3, 1968).
Wayne Walton	When I cut my finger on a broom and had 4 stitches.
Peter Way	When I was accepted on early decision at Clarkson College.
Wayne Whittaker	Leaving.
Kenneth Williams	The day I arrived and the day I left AHS.
Derry Young	Grape parties.
Russell Zito	The day I went out for parts and slept 4 hours.
Nancy Zaccardi	Christmas Eve—1968.
